Dear Friends,

Fiscal year 2010 will be recorded as one of the most challenging in The Foodbank’s 34 year history. Economic conditions continued to be the driving factor in the rising demand for emergency food assistance among residents in Montgomery, Greene, and Preble counties. Member agencies were pushed to their outer reaches to provide essential services to the growing number of visitors to pantries, soup kitchens and emergency shelters.

Thanks to you, our generous donors and faithful supporters, The Foodbank has been able to meet the growing demand to provide nourishment for the hungry in our area. Many of you increased your giving and many of you gave for the first time. Through your gifts of funds and food you confirmed your commitment to feed the hungry of this community. You understand that food is the most basic of human needs.

Because of your support, The Foodbank expanded its outreach to the community by adding member agencies and increasing the number of sites where hungry people have access to nutritious food. More children were fed at Kids Café sites and with the Good-To-Go BackPack© program. In this Annual Report you will find the information that you need to make sound decisions regarding your plan for giving. I think you will see that The Foodbank works extremely hard to be excellent stewards of your donations.

Thank you for your donations. Whether large or small, please know that all contributions are important. They bring great comfort to many children, seniors, and individuals who would otherwise go hungry. Please continue to be our partner in the fight against hunger by visiting our website today at www.thefoodbankdayton.org to make your secure donation.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Peter Gunderson
Chairman of the Board, The Foodbank

In 2010 The Foodbank provided the equivalent of 5,693,103 meals to the hungry in our community.
Mission
The Foodbank is committed to relieving hunger through the acquisition and distribution of food to hungry people throughout the Miami Valley.

Vision
The Foodbank will ensure that food relief is available in its service area to all hungry people.

The Foodbank’s Basic Values

Accountability
We will honor the public’s trust by maintaining the highest standards of ethics and stewardship.

Accessibility
We will ensure that all stakeholders have equitable access to The Foodbank and its resources.

Advocacy
We will be the voice of hunger in the community, and speak out for those who cannot be heard. We will maintain and communicate information about hunger to all.

Availability
We will ensure that safe, nutritious food and related supplies are available throughout our service area.

Collaboration
We will actively seek to form and broaden collaborations committed to furthering our mission of hunger relief.

Service
We will serve others in a courteous, sensitive and compassionate manner.
There are many reasons people go hungry. Some folks—living on fixed incomes as the result of age, divorce or low salaries—must choose between paying bills and buying food. Others have lost jobs or are unable to work due to illness. Many are children. These people need the support of the broader community, and they are the reason The Foodbank exists.

Thanks to the compassion of thousands of donors and hundreds of volunteers across the Miami Valley, The Foodbank can provide the region’s hungry with the food necessary to lead a healthy, productive life. In 2010, through its network of nearly 100 hunger relief programs in Montgomery, Greene and Preble counties, The Foodbank:

- Provided 5,693,103 meals to community and faith-based food pantries, shelters and community kitchens—more than 15,597 meals each day
- Addressed the nutritional needs of targeted, at-risk populations through the following programs:
  - Kids Cafe® program for children in church-sponsored, latchkey and after-school programs
  - Good-to-Go BackPack® Program for children in grades K-8 who live in poverty and need food to get them through weekends

In 2010 The Foodbank distributed nearly 30,000 backpacks to provide at-risk children with food for the weekend.
INTEGRITY

The Foodbank’s staff and volunteers work hard to ensure that the food distributed to its network of pantries, shelters and feeding programs is safe and of good quality. Proactive policies and safety practices include:

- Maintaining and publishing a database of recalled food items, both perishable and non-perishable
- Informing member agencies of recalls quickly and expeditiously
- Tracking all food distributed—from The Foodbank’s warehouse to the ultimate recipient
- Screening all canned food items donated by the public to ensure that they are unopened, undamaged and safe.
- Training member agencies in the National Restaurant Association’s ServSafe® practices

In 2010, 648 volunteers worked a total of 2,085 hours sorting and repacking donated food items.
Hunger has a devastating effect on individuals, families and communities. It impacts health and well-being, and contributes to larger societal problems.

In 2010, The Foodbank continued to work on educating legislators about food insecurity and hunger. Board and staff members worked to draw attention about the plight of hunger in our community and sought to ensure that people who suffer from hunger are not overlooked. The Foodbank was fortunate to receive additional food from The Emergency Food Assistance Program of USDA and additional funding from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. Those injections of Government food supplies and funds, helped to ensure the increased demand was meet.

The Foodbank’s personnel also worked with community organizations to support numerous charitable food-gathering initiatives, and worked to expand its network of partnerships with organizations that can contribute to hunger relief. As economic conditions challenge our country, The Foodbank will continue this important work, for hungry people need an advocate.

83% of people served by The Foodbank have incomes below the federal poverty level.
The average monthly income of people served by The Foodbank is $760.
Tens of thousands of people in the Miami Valley depend on The Foodbank each year for healthy, nutritious meals. The Foodbank, in turn, relies on the generosity of the community to do its work.

The careful management of funds and food resources is a commitment The Foodbank's leadership takes seriously, for without community support, the fight against hunger would be lost. The Foodbank's stewardship efforts include:

Managing overhead:
Only seven percent of The Foodbank's annual budget is used for non-program expenditures.

Stretching the donated dollar:
The Foodbank works with corporations, foundations, community organizations and government and social service entities to purchase bulk food items at greatly reduced costs.

Meeting reputable standards:
The Foodbank is a Better Business Bureau (BBB) accredited charity, and meets the organization's "20 Standards for Charity Accountability."

ACCOUNTABILITY

Each year, The Foodbank is audited by a number of sources, including:

- A third-party accounting and financial planning firm, which provides a complete report of The Foodbank’s financial activities
- The Ohio Department of Agriculture, the Ohio Department of Health and Human Services, and the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, each of which examines The Foodbank’s policies and practices
- U. S. Department of Health and Human Services/Food and Drug Administration annual onsite compliance review

The Foodbank also participates in a comprehensive biennial audit conducted by Feeding America that ensures it meets that organization's standards.

31% of people served by The Foodbank are adults who, because of low wages, job loss, divorce or illness, just can’t make ends meet.
The Foodbank wishes to acknowledge the generous support of individuals, corporations, foundations and churches, as well as the many government agencies that support its mission of hunger relief.

The Foodbank does not sell or rent its donor lists.

The Foodbank serves approximately 70,000 people each year, 40 percent of whom are children.

YOU CAN HELP!

Feeding the hungry is important and rewarding work, and requires the support of the local community. There are many ways you can help:

- Organize a fund drive
- Organize a canned food drive
- Make a financial contribution to The Foodbank’s work
- Volunteer
- Help spread the word about the impact hunger has on individuals and communities

For information on how to organize fund or food drives, or on how to support The Foodbank as a volunteer, visit The Foodbank’s Web site, www.thefoodbankdayton.org or call 461-0265, ext. 17.

Financial contributions may be made online via The Foodbank's Web site or U.S. Mail: The Foodbank, 427 Washington Street, Dayton, Ohio, 45402. All donations to The Foodbank remain in the Miami Valley, and are used to serve hungry people in Montgomery, Greene and Preble counties.

Thank you for your consideration. The individuals The Foodbank serves are grateful for your support.
